Dear Valued Patient:

I am writing to inform you that I have recently transitioned my practice *The One and Only Dental at Glen Cove to its now new owner, Dr. Chitvan Gupta. I will still continue to work at the practice for the next couple of months, and would be happy to treat you during this transition period. Apart from me being eventually replaced by Dr. Gupta as the primary general dentist in the office, please note that nothing else is changing in the office, e.g., the entire staff and the other doctors will remain, the office will continue to accept the same insurances.

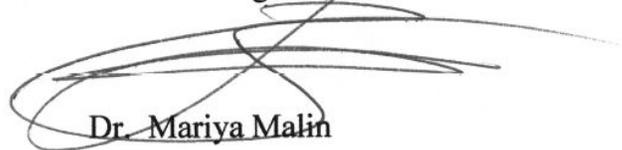

Over the years, I have tried to incorporate all the latest technology at the practice, and to provide the most comprehensive and quality care to my cherished patients. Your continued loyalty and superlative reviews have been the highest appreciation and compliment I could ever receive. I thank you very much for entrusting me with your care.

For some time, I have been looking for the perfect doctor to take over my dental practice, so that I can spend more time with my children and family. My primary objective in the search for a new owner was to find a dentist who would foremost possess my practice philosophy of rendering high-quality dentistry with true care and compassion for you, my patients, together with someone who would be skilled in providing cosmetic dental procedures utilizing newer techniques and instrumentation in the area.

I am happy to have found Dr. Chitvan Gupta, whose overarching philosophy is to deliver high-quality treatment with genuine compassion and devotion to patients' well-being. I am very confident that Dr. Gupta will exceed your expectations, and am pleased to entrust your continued dental care in her very capable and compassionate hands. Dr. Gupta graduated from Maulana Azad Dental College in Delhi, India, and then completed a 4-year Advanced Education in General Dentistry residency program from the Eastman Institute for Oral Health, Rochester, NY. She also holds a Master of Public Health degree from the prestigious Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Gupta has been practicing dentistry for over 15 years, and is loved by her patients. Dr. Gupta is strongly committed to minimally invasive dentistry, and is a graduate of Alleman-Deliperi Center for Biomimetic Dentistry.

I am pleased to have found Dr. Gupta who can offer my patients this rare blend of training, experience, and compassion. I know that you will be in excellent hands, and recommend her highly. In closing, please accept our appreciation for the confidence and friendship you have shown us through the years.

Warmest Regards,

Dr. Mariya Malin
